SUMMARY

Enterprise Systems & Strategy expert in navigating high-complexity B2B environments to deliver intuitive, scalable software solutions. I excel at synthesizing fragmented business requirements and technical constraints into a unified strategic vision. By leveraging systems thinking and cross-functional leadership, I transform dense enterprise workflows into award-winning user experiences that drive measurable global adoption.

EXPERIENCE

SENIOR PRODUCT DESIGNER
HP | 2022-present

- Scale the B2B Personal Systems Software portfolio, driving a 34% year-over-year increase in connected devices for the flagship platform through strategic integration of enterprise-level services.
- Reduce late-stage design pivots by 30% by implementing strategic workshops that bridge design-to-development gaps and improve cross-departmental sentiment.
- Mentor a high-performing team of 5 designers to reinforce established design standards that standardize E2E user experiences across the B2B ecosystem, reducing design debt and improving usability.

PRODUCT DESIGNER
HP | 2021-2022

- Ensure designs follow common design standards which consistently increased engagement on pages designed by an average of 28%
- Apply design thinking methodologies to stakeholder sessions, translating complex business needs into actionable design wireframes and prototypes.

PRODUCT DESIGNER
UXReactor | 2021

- Own user research including planning, coordinating, facilitating, analyzing, and present to external clients with Lead Designers
- Translate user research findings into design improvements or wireframes based on feedback from clients
